

FUNERAL RITES ARE HELD FOR SENATOR WALSH

President Roosevelt
Attends Services
At Capitol

By Don J. Kirkley.
Washington, March 6.—(AP)—About a flower-bedecked casket in the Senate chamber, dignitaries of church and state bade a sorrowful farewell today to the late Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana.

Beside the daily gleaming silvered-bronze casket near the vice president's desk in the chamber in which Walsh served 20 years, sat the members of his family in deep mourning.

A scant three feet away, President Roosevelt, hands crossed in his lap and head half-bowed, added his homage to the memory of the quiet Montana legislator whom he had chosen to be his attorney general.

Clothed with all the dignity of their robes of office, Chief Justice Hughes and associate justices of the Supreme Court likewise sat in reverent silence as their tribute. Members of Congress, the cabinet, the diplomatic corps and the commanders of the military services, too, were present.

Mrs. Roosevelt looked on from the presidential gallery, while hundreds of others less notable watched from the other galleries.

Archbishop Michael J. Curley, of Baltimore, assisted by Bishop John McNamara, of Washington, and other prelates in the colorful robes of their ranks, officiated at the obsequies with the impressive ritual of the Roman Catholic church.

Facing the glowing crucifix at the head of the casket, the archbishop made his sermon of eulogy to the memory of the late senator, of whom he said:

"He loved and served his God—he loved and served his fellow man. Senator Walsh's widow, the former Senora Nieves Perez Chaimont de Truffin, of Havana, to whom the senator was wed but a few days before his death Thursday morning, had to be assisted from place by her son, Marcel Truffin, and John Walsh, the senator's brother, as the ceremonial ended after the blessing of the body by the archbishop.

With her in the family group were Captain and Mrs. Emmet C. Gudger and their daughter, Ellen, Mrs. John Walsh, Miss Sally Walsh, a sister, and John Wattawa, a nephew of the senator. Mrs. Gudger was his daughter.

They retired immediately to the family apartment here to compose themselves for the long journey to the final resting place in Helena, Montana, which began this afternoon. Mrs. Walsh, the widow, was placed under a doctor's care and did not attempt the journey.

After services in the Catholic Cathedral at Helena on Thursday morning, burial will be solemnized in the Resurrection cemetery by the side of the senator's first wife, who died in 1917.

John Walsh said shortly before he left that the nervous shock which Mrs. Walsh sustained had left her in a prostrate condition.

"Mrs. Walsh intends to remain in Washington and she hopes to visit Montana in the spring time, as the senator had planned," he said.

Four senators accompanied the body to the burial place. They were: Wheeler, of Montana, Kendrick, of Wyoming, Schall, of Minnesota, and Frazier, of North Dakota.

REICHSTAG WILL CLOSE SHOP FOR TWO YEAR PERIOD

Adolf Hitler Will Rule
Germany Unimpeded

By Louis P. Lochner.
Berlin, March 6.—(AP)—Backed by his overwhelming victory in yesterday's Reichstag election, Chancellor Adolf Hitler today attacked the task of reshuffling his government, which official circles predicted, will rule Germany unimpeded by any Reichstag session for two years.

In all likelihood Hitler will be the next Premier of Prussia, the largest state of the Reich, at the same time continuing as the Chancellor, one of his close advisers.

On Tuesday the cabinet will meet to set the date for the first meeting of the new Reichstag, in which the combined national socialists and nationalists have a majority. After a brief session the national legislature is expected to shut up shop for two years.

Whatever happens the Chancellor's adviser said, vice-chancellor Franz von Papen will not assume the Premiership of Prussia, but probably will become foreign minister, succeeding Baron von Neurath, whose health is precarious and who frequently has expressed a desire to terminate his service as quickly as possible. If the Chancellor decides to keep himself free for other duties, he may appoint Herman Goerring, now minister without portfolio, to the Prussian Premiership.

While continuing his merciless fight on communism through captain Goering, the chancellor is understood to be anxious to bring about the domestic pacification of the German people as quickly as possible.

With 5,000 communist leaders taken in custody, Hitler feels that now he has a real chance of getting at the soul of the leftist worker, one of those close to him asserted.

"Hitler desires no tyranny for Germany," his Munich organ the Volkischer Beobachter observed. His friends asserted that his first task of the immediate future will be to educate his nation in ideals of patriotism, character and decency.

The Nazi Swastika emblem was hoisted today on one of the four flagpoles of the Reichstag, but it was removed on orders from the house inspector.

Many German cities reported that the Nazi or the Imperial colors, or both, had been hoisted on scores of public buildings.

The Freihetsskampf, the Nazi organ, reported that the Reichstag election meant the death sentence of the Saxon diet.

EAST ST. LOUIS MARKET OPEN
East St. Louis, Ill., March 6.—(AP)—The St. Louis livestock exchange will, until further notice, be kept open on the same basis as it has operated since the beginning of the bank holiday, it was announced by the board of directors late today.

PLAN TO REOPEN U. S. BANKS ON LIMITED BASIS

American Energies
Swing Into Full Force

(By The Associated Press)
The full force of American energies swung into action Monday to overcome the economic handicap of the nation-wide banking shut-down.

Limited reopening of the nation's banks was authorized by secretary Woodin of the treasury as one step in the coordinated campaign to correct financial mal-adjustments.

President Roosevelt and financial leaders in taking immediate action, meanwhile, the business executive and the man on the street made the best of the currency shortage and at the end of the first day of the four-day modified national holiday the following steps had been taken:

Mr. Roosevelt was assured full support by Governors of the states and by leaders of both Houses of the national legislature in prompt enactment of the emergency program he will present Thursday noon to the extraordinary session of Congress.

Secretary Woodin, field marshal in the war against depression, announced important modifications of the Sunday night proclamation. Banks will be permitted to make change and to give food supplies, to make change and to give food assistance.

Plans were virtually completed for the issuance of clearing house certificates and scrip money until banks reopen.

Herbert Hoover as a private citizen declared that the moratorium proclamation of his successor in the Presidency "should receive the wholehearted support and cooperation of every citizen."

There were no disorders and no prospect of a shortage of the necessities of life.

Major financial exchanges decided to stay closed during the holiday. The Chicago Livestock Exchange will close Tuesday afternoon and the Chicago Board of Trade will suspend cash grain operations Wednesday. Packers and wholesalers generally had enough food to last for months, and livestock exchanges in several other cities announced they would stay open.

As money came out of hoarding, the larger cities provided facilities for making change for currency of large denominations. Municipalities of all sizes and in all sections were ready to issue substitute mediums of exchange.

Backed by the assets in closed banks, Secretary Woodin promised that banks could accept new deposits without restrictions, subject to withdrawal on demand. Several states and clearing house associations had already asked permission to resume business operations.

Typical of the attitude of bankers, J. H. Perkins, new chairman of the National City bank at New York, conferred with President Roosevelt and said:

"We will work things out." The President, speaking before the conference, said he would like to have wanted banking conditions uniform in the 48 states and asked cooperation in avoiding undue centralization of authority at Washington.

Roosevelt said his major objectives in acting under a war-time emergency law during the banking crisis were to prevent withdrawal of gold or currency and to provide a supplementary medium to circulate in normal business channels.

In foreign money centers, there were no dollar quotations as a close watch was kept upon rumors at New York and Washington. Stock exchange transactions at London were somewhat restricted, but closed quiet and steady. Trading at London on the pound was shifted to the basis of the gold-backed French franc.

HERBERT HOOVER ASKS PUBLIC TO HELP ROOSEVELT
Makes Plea For All U. S. Citizens To Support President

By John F. Chester.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
New York, March 6.—(AP)—A plea for all citizens to support President Roosevelt in his effort to untangle the banking and business crisis came today from the man he succeeded in the highest office of the land, Herbert Hoover.

Departing from the rule he laid down informally before leaving the White House—that he would issue no statement or interview—Mr. Hoover answered the inquiries of newspapermen as to his views on the national bank holiday and the ban on gold export with these words:

"The president's proclamation should receive the wholehearted support and co-operation of every citizen."

The former-president spoke through his secretary, Lawrence Ritchie. There was no amplification of his terse remark. Throughout the day and during the evening he remained in his apartment on the 33rd floor of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, apparently attending only to private affairs and visiting with friends.

If Mr. Hoover is taking any more direct hand in the efforts to straighten out the nation's financial condition other than to keep himself informed of each step, no intimation of it came from his immediate party or his conferees.

Roosevelt Administration Relaxes National Banking Holiday to Meet Emergency

MAY ESTABLISH CENTRAL RELIEF AGENCY IN U. S.

By Francis M. Stephenson.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Washington, March 6.—(AP)—The national banking holiday was relaxed tonight by the Roosevelt administration to open the institutions for new business and emergency payments on foodstuffs.

Keeping the precious gold supply of the nation still carefully locked in the vaults against hoarders and foreign raiders, President Roosevelt devoted himself today to easing the strain on the moneyless populace.

He told the conference of Governors assembled in the east room of the White House that one objective of the banking proclamation was "to provide some form of circulating medium for the country in addition to the outstanding currency, because a large part has been put in hiding." He added "I have confidence the public will accept that circulating medium."

Issuing Certificates
By tomorrow, March 7, is expected a system of clearing house certificates which are to serve as the medium of exchange during the crisis which the President expects to end completely by emergency legislation in the new Congress meeting Thursday.

As the hopeful nation rallied around the President in public expressions of confidence, his secretary of the treasury, William H. Woodin, promulgated the modifications designed to loosen the channels of monetary exchange.

His string of regulations opened to withdrawal the deposits placed in banks after they had been closed by state or other order prior to the Roosevelt proclamation.

Mr. Roosevelt's address called for public support of the order opening the banks for new deposits subject to withdrawal on demand and without restriction.

"We should provide some method," he told the governors, "by which banking can go on with new cash coming in. It is proposed through the treasury department that every bank will be authorized to open new accounts and the money so deposited can be withdrawn at any time. The only way in which that money can be kept absolutely safe beyond per adventure of doubt is by using methods to keep it safe—first keeping the money in cash the way it is put in; secondly depositing it in the federal reserve bank; and third, purchasing government bonds with it."

The guarantee placed on these deposits in the Woodin order opening banks for new deposits stipulated that these accounts be kept separately in special trust funds under the rules laid down by Mr. Roosevelt.

Other trust measures announced by Mr. Woodin included authority to banks to make safety deposit vaults accessible; to make change, but without paying out either gold or gold certificates; authority to cash checks drawn on the treasurer of the United States, but not in gold or gold certificates; and to return all cash and checks received for deposit or collection after the last closing business hours and not then entered on the books.

The drive for all appropriate modification of the banking law occupied the almost complete attention of Mr. Roosevelt and his secretary of the treasury in the long day of conferences.

ZANGARA IS HELD FOR DEATH OF MAYOR CERMAK

First Degree Murder
Indictment Is Returned

Miami, Fla., March 6.—(AP)—A bullet intended for President Roosevelt brought death to Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago in a hospital here today and about ten hours later Giuseppe Zangara, the assassin, was indicted for first degree murder.

The mayor died at 6:57 a. m., after 19 days of suffering with the wound and many complications it caused. Almost immediately the Dade county grand jury met and began hearing testimony on which it based the murder indictment returned about 5 p. m.

Circuit Judge Uly O. Thompson announced that Zangara, a naturalized Italian, will be arraigned at noon tomorrow. Conviction carries the death penalty by electrocution.

The assassin, already under 60 years of age, was indicted on the charge of premeditated murder on which it based the murder indictment returned about 5 p. m.

Two Counts
The indictment contained two counts. One charged that "from a premeditated act to effect the death of J. Edgar D. Roosevelt, he did kill and murder Anton J. Cermak by shooting him with a pistol. The other count alleges that with 'premeditated design to effect the death of Anton J. Cermak,' he did kill and murder him."

An autopsy fixed the cause of Cermak's death as gangrene of the right lung which was punctured by the bullet, causing a collapse. "This induced pneumonia and lung abscess which ended in dry gangrene. This condition caused a falling of the heart, causing death," the post mortem report said.

Zangara is still in the Dade county jail 22 floors above the street where he has been held pending the outcome of injuries to Cermak and Mrs. Joe H. Gill, Miami society woman, who is in a critical condition from one of his bullets.

Although jurors would not confirm Cermak's death as gangrene of the right lung which was punctured by the bullet, causing a collapse. "This induced pneumonia and lung abscess which ended in dry gangrene. This condition caused a falling of the heart, causing death," the post mortem report said.

Zangara has said a woman struck his arm causing him to miss his aim at Mr. Roosevelt.

OSCAR FOREMAN, CHICAGO BANKER DIES MONDAY

Chicago Financier Had Been
In Banking Business
Over 50 Years

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Oscar C. Foreman, 70, member of one of Chicago's pioneer families and for more than half a century identified with the city's banking activities, died today.

He was a leading member of the Foreman banking dynasty founded by his father in Chicago in 1862.

His tenure as president, however, after the Foreman State National Bank was merged in 1931 with the First National and the First Union Trust. Until that time the Foreman State National had been Chicago's third largest bank.

Born Nov. 1, 1862, Foreman's first job was a messenger for the old National Bank of Illinois when he was 17 years old.

A few years later he went into the private banking business of his father, Gerhard. The private business eventually developed into the Foreman State National.

Foreman was vice president of the bank from 1897 to 1915, president from 1915 to 1923, and chairman of the board from that time until it was merged. He was president of the Illinois Association in 1909, president of the Chicago Clearing House association in 1923 and 1924. He was a Democrat.

The widow, a son, and a daughter survive.

Harold Ickes To Have Old Friend As An Assistant

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—Harold Ickes, of Chicago, in taking over his office as secretary of the interior in the Roosevelt cabinet has as his right hand man an old friend and political associate of 21 years standing, Joseph M. Dixon.

As assistant interior secretary, Dixon, former Montana Governor and United States Senator, will continue an associate which began when he and Ickes met during the Theodore Roosevelt progressive movement, both having bolted the republican party in 1912. At that time Ickes was chairman of the Cook county and Illinois state progressive committees.

Dixon was manager of the Bull Moose campaign of the former president. (Continued on Page Four)

MANY MIDWEST MARKETS HAVE BEEN CLOSED

Livestock Exchange
Will Suspend
Operations

By Giles L. Findley.
Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Midwest commodity markets wavered as the full influence of the national bank holiday became effective today, and some were forced to suspend obligations.

The Chicago Livestock Exchange, center of the nation's meat packing industry, stumbled through a hectic day and announced the yards would be closed Tuesday at 3 p. m. until further notice.

Inability to "work" on a plan for payments to livestock producers forced the suspension.

It was not the first time that the great livestock market had been forced to suspend operations. During the epidemic of hoof and mouth disease a few decades ago, the market was closed by an embargo. Again during the war, the market was temporarily suspended because supplies were so large that further incoming shipments could not be accommodated.

The closing of the livestock market found Chicago with about one week's supply of fresh meats on hand. The amount of stock on cooler rails was equal to about two days' normal withdrawals.

The Omaha livestock market will remain open at least temporarily, and packers said they would issue checks to producers, payable after the banks reopen.

However, Chicago faced no immediate meat shortage. The closing of the exchange did not affect the big packing plants materially. They planned to have supplies shipped to their plants on direct consignment from producers, making arrangements for payment by check "redeemable when" and as banking facilities permit.

The cash grain market at the Board of Trade operated on a limited scale of business, but the clearing of prices 1 to 2 cents higher. Other grains were generally inactive. Provisions were sharply higher because of the shutdown of the stock yards and the threat of scarcity.

MORATORIUM ON PATRONAGE HAS BEEN DECLARED

President Roosevelt Says He Has No Time To Talk
Appointments

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—To his modified March holiday, President Roosevelt today added another, this one with fewer restrictions.

It proclaimed a moratorium on patronage for the duration of the present financial emergency. The chief executive felt it was known that he had no time for the consideration of appointments now and none will be made except those that may facilitate his economic program.

A little while earlier, the Senate had confirmed six nominations of this nature and post master general E. A. Tamm announced the appointment of four assistants and then told newspapermen "extreme care will be exercised in filling all positions." Nominations, he said, will be submitted "slowly to make certain that efficient men and women will be obtained."

The Senate's action came after Roosevelt shattered a precedent by sending six nominations directly to it from the executive room of the Senate chamber, to which he retired after attending the funeral of Senator Thomas J. Walsh. Those confirmed were:

William Phillips of Massachusetts to be undersecretary of state, and Wilbur J. Carr of New York and Ohio, and Raymond I. Moley of New York, to be assistant secretaries of state;

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., of New York to be chairman of the farm board;

Former representative William F. Stevenson of South Carolina, and M. D. Webb of Tennessee, to be members of the home loan bank board. Stevenson is expected to be chairman.

SADDENED CITY PLANS FUNERAL FOR ITS MAYOR

Rites For A. J. Cermak
Will Be Held In Huge Stadium

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—A saddened city planned a martyr's funeral for Anton Joseph Cermak tonight, as mourning civic leaders worried over selecting a new helmsman for Chicago's Government.

In the massive Chicago Stadium, crepe draped in contrast to the gay colors and blaring music of last summer's political conventions, 30,000 will attend Friday the last rites for Mayor Cermak.

Six months ago the man whose life was ended by an assassin's bullet intended for President Roosevelt came home from a European vacation necessitated by a nervous breakdown.

Ticker tape and confetti showered down upon him as he rode at the head of a parade through the downtown district. Thousands lined the streets and yelled "welcome home, Tony" until their throats were sore.

Different Homecoming
Wednesday morning there will be a different homecoming. Led by city officials and councilmen hundreds will march part way from the railroad station to the home where Cermak was killed five years ago. There will be another procession when the body is taken Thursday morning to the heart of the city in the rotunda of the city hall for 24 hours.

Cleries of three faiths—a Methodist minister, a Priest, and a Rabbi—will participate Friday morning in the funeral services in the stadium. A few hours after the casket is carried away to rest in the Cermak family mausoleum of the Bohemian National Cemetery, a six day bicycle race starts in the stadium.

When the last rite started, Mayor Cermak was present. He fired the pistol that began the race.

Although openly grieving over the Mayor's death in Miami, Fla., city officials—business leaders gave much thought as to who would carry on the manifold tasks he had begun. First of these tasks was bringing Chicago back to normal. He had been elected one of its own members to serve out Harrison's term.

There was legal authorities agreed, no precedent for selecting a Mayor to serve until a special election, probably next June.

There was a possibility that a state order of emergency under which Mayor Carter L. Harrison's successor was chosen might be reinstated. Mayor Harrison, another World's Fair Mayor, was killed by an assassin 40 years ago. The city council elected one of its own members to serve out Harrison's term.

It was also considered possible that the state legislature might be asked to pass a bill providing for immediate election of a Mayor without a primary for nomination of candidates.

Of candidates to succeed Cermak, the newspaper mentioned that William Hale Thompson, defeated by Cermak in 1930, might attempt to regain the office. Thompson has said many times that the only position he wants is that of Mayor.

A group of business men said they would endorse county clerk Robert Schweizer. Another mentioned was health commissioner, Herman N. Bundesen. Both are democrats.

For the immediate present a "triumvirate" appointed by Cermak to rule in his stead will continue in power. The members are city councilman William H. Sexton, comptroller M. S. Symczak, and alderman Henry Sonnenschein.

Sonnenschein received from Miami early today the first official notification of the death of the man who began his career in the northern Illinois coal mines as an immigrant boy and rose to be chief executive of the nation's second largest city.

He heard it by long distance telephone from the hospital with which he and other sorrowing city officials and friends of Cermak had been in constant touch since the Mayor fell from the assassin's bullet 18 days ago.

From over the nation came announcements from government and business leaders that they would attend the funeral. President Roosevelt announced he would send Col. Campbell B. Hodges, his senior military aid, to act as his personal representative. Gov. Henry Horner announced he would leave the conference of Governors at Washington and hurry to Chicago.

High ranking democrats have regarded Cermak as one of the ablest organizers and directors of their party. His place on the democratic national committee probably will be taken, they said, by Patrick A. Nash, chairman of the Cook county committee.

Like Mayor Cermak, Mayor Harrison was a national figure when he was slain Oct. 28, 1893 by Patrick Prendergast, a disappointed office seeker.

Chicago in 1893 was a center of world attention because—as Chicago 1893 is preparing to do in its century—entertained the world's most entertaining visitors from old world and new at a World's Fair. That was the Columbian Exposition and Mayor Harrison, father of the Mayor of the same name who later served as head of the city fire terms, was a genial host.

His hospitality and ability during the Exposition had made him friends all over the country much as Mayor Cermak's fight to clean up Chicago's gang and financial troubles had put him in the center of attention.

But the bullets which ended Mayor Harrison's life were not the ones which brought death to Chicago's second martyred Mayor, intended for another. (Continued On Page Four)

Heroine of Miami

The tragedy at Miami on Feb. 15, when the gun of an assassin aimed at the President-elect of the United States, was diverted so that his bullets struck down five other persons, will long be remembered. But unless her name is some how preserved the little woman who saved the life of Mr. Roosevelt may be forgotten. She is Mrs. Lillian Cross of Miami.

She it was who saw Zangara aim at the President-elect. She grabbed the murderer's arm and so spoiled his aim that the bullets failed to hit the mark for which they were intended. Mrs. Cross is the wife of a Miami physician just an ordinary woman among thousands who were gathered at that event to see a notable personage. Yet this woman did her part. She served her country by saving the man who would soon be its leader. What she did will go down as one of the most significant deeds of history; for already in the first days of Mr. Roosevelt's administration we have learned what a tragedy it would have been had he been struck down. Today he has a firm hand on the helm of the ship of state, as it weathers one of the worst storms of its history.

Mrs. Cross deserves the gratitude of a great people. She acted on impulse, but with a mighty purpose. Of her it may be said as it was of Queen Esther, "Who knows but that thou wert sent to the nation for just such a time as this."

Dark, But Hopeful

These are dark days, but they are also days of hope. The American people have been groping along through the depression wondering just where the bottom might be. Now they know. The crisis has been reached, and constructive plans to meet it have been put in operation.

The people believe that within the next few days a national definite will be done to start business on an upswing. They are confident that the way ahead will be much clearer than the way which led us to this present hour.

During this banking holiday we are taking a great national inventory, checking up our resources and our liabilities. When we again resume normal business operations, it will be on a sounder basis and with greater confidence.

The collapse has heretofore come in taking a great national inventory, checking up our resources and our liabilities. When we again resume normal business operations, it will be on a sounder basis and with greater confidence.

We are all on a level; even the rich, who have been weathering the storm in a betterly good share, are caught short of cash. They also know what it means to be financially embarrassed. Some of them have had to borrow from those who had less wealth, but had it where they could get it.

These conditions will not long prevail. Life will be more pleasant when they subside. Everybody will be more appreciative of the financial institutions which have been endeavoring to serve the people.

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier: Santa Monica, Calif., March 6.—America has been as happy in three years as they are today. No money, no banks, no work, no nothing, but they know they got a man in there who is wise to congress, wise to our big bankers, and wise to our so-called big men. The whole country is with him, even if what he does is wrong they are with him, just so he does something. If he burned down the capitol we would cheer and say, "well we at least got a fire started anyhow, unquote. We have had years of quote, don't rock the boat, unquote, go on and sink it if you want to, we just as well be swimming as like we are."

SACRED DRAMA WILL BE GIVEN SUNDAY EVENING

Griggsville, March 6.—"Barabbas", a sacred drama, will be presented next Sunday at the M. E. church at 7:30 p. m. by members of the dramatic club of MacMurray College, Jacksonville, under the direction of Mrs. Marian Chas. Schaeffer, instructor in the speech department of that college.

The setting for Barabbas is a side road near Jerusalem, in sight of Calvary. Toras, the friends of Barabbas, is waiting for the return of Barabbas, the leader. Barabbas has been set free, while Christ was condemned to be crucified. Mary Magdalene enters the drama on her way to Christ's tomb. Barabbas, whose disposition and mind has been changed by the knowledge of Christ and His wrongful death, lets her pass without molesting her. Barabbas is caught between his thief's loyalty and the change in belief by his knowledge of Christ. When Mary Magdalene returns with the news that Christ is risen, Barabbas gives up his life of thievery and becomes a Christian follower.

The caste is as follows: Barabbas—Aline Bellevic. Toras—Mildred Rose. Simeon—Elizabeth Dertinger. Thaddeus—Thyra Smith. Hamath—Mildred Barrick. Mary Magdalene—Constance Alkire. The public is cordially invited to attend. Doors will be open at 7:10 p. m. Standing room only after 7:30 p. m. A free will offering will be received.

The W. F. M. S. will meet on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. H. C. Laird. This is the meeting postponed from Friday of last week on account of the Day of Prayer.

The W. H. M. S. will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m. with Miss Alice Butterfield. An interesting program is planned.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. All believers in the Lord Jesus Christ are cordially welcome to partake with us.

There was a good attendance at the services of the National Day of Prayer for Missions held last Friday afternoon at the M. E. church and a splendid spirit of devotion and consecration seemed present. Mrs. G. E.

ADMINISTRATION RELAXES NATIONAL BANKING HOLIDAY

program, however, appears to be taking form. It is expected that Congress on Thursday will approve quickly the emergency clearing house scrip to be issued and ratify the steps taken by the President.

There also is talk of continuing some form of restriction on withdrawals of the now imounded deposits as to make sure of no new and sudden attack upon the gold supply that forced the present drastic action.

Withdrawals totaling $862,000,000 were reported by the 450 odd member banks of the federal reserve system today for the week ending March 1.

The period covered embraced that time when withdrawals of depositors were at their peak, actuated by public fear that the banking situation of the country was becoming acute. These heavy withdrawals were the chief contributing factors to the situation which caused President Roosevelt to proclaim the bank holiday.

Net demand deposits was the classification hardest hit by frantic depositors, withdrawals in this account of reporting members amounting to $893,000,000 during the week. Time deposits withdrew $211,000,000 during the period, while the Government itself saw fit to withdraw $58,000,000 during the week which left its balance at only $90,000,000.

A detailed statement on New York City institutions showed that withdrawals in that center alone amounted to $444,000,000 during the period, while in Chicago the week's loss was $123,000,000. This relatively heavy loss in the two most important money centers was attributed to withdrawals for outside uses which have been reduced virtually to a currency basis because of restricted banking facilities.

MICHIGAN TRIMS PURDUE

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 6.—(AP)—Michigan completed its Western Conference basketball schedule tonight, defeating Purdue, 27 to 22 in a second period rally led by Captain DeForest Eversland. The win gave the Wolverines a record of eight victories and four defeats in the Big Ten and a tie with Iowa for third place in the standings. Purdue's final record is six wins and six losses.

Eversland, Garner, Allenhof and Pettie played their last game for Michigan.

H. H. Vasconcellos,
Co. Supt. Schools

It has long been known that registration in high school does not have much effect on the winning and losing of basketball games. Maybe this is another of those things which follow the rules, and will not be the exception.

Harold Gibson, who has been busily compiling the records of the teams entered in this district tournament, turned over his efforts last night to the column. Here we find that Ashland, with an enrollment of 115 students, has a basketball team which has a record of 19 victories and two defeats.

Jacksonville, with an enrollment of 984 students, has won 14 and lost 5 for the next best record of the teams entered here. Illinois School for the Deaf is next with 12 won and six lost, and by counting all of the students who attend classes, from the four year olds up, their enrollment amounts to 680. Actually, there are about 25 or 30 in the high school department.

Winchester has won 13 and lost nine games, and represents a student body of 203 pupils. Incidentally, one of our runners came back with the tip that Winchester is coming up here prepared to take home a trophy.

Old game football has not been very kind to the rest of the team entered in this tournament, but that doesn't mean that this tournament will not be interesting. A team can rub out a lot of a season with a victory or two in the district.

Here are the records of the other seven teams entered here:

Team	W	L	Students
Bluffs	5	10	112
Pleasant Plains	8	10	99
Franklin	6	11	84
Chapin	6	9	54
Modesto	7	8	46
Waverly	6	18	150
New Berlin	10	6	108

Joseph Zangara aimed at President-elect Roosevelt when his shot struck Gov. Mayor Cermak and four others, Prendergast, disgruntled because he was not appointed corporation counsel, went directly that October evening 40 years ago to the home of Mayor Harrison. The Mayor had returned only a few minutes before from addressing a conference of Mayors at the Exposition. Prendergast was led into the Harrison dining room, fired three shots into his victim and fled.

Fifteen minutes later Mayor Harrison was dead. His slayer was captured and hanged.

The tragedy brought messages of sorrow to Chicago from all over the world as they are now being received in condolence for Mayor Cermak's loss.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday March 3.

The Golden Text was, "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? (I Corinthians 2:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me. I have made the earth and created man upon it; I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded. I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways" (Isaiah 45:11-13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God expresses in man the infinite idea, forever developing itself, broadening, and rising higher and higher from a boundless basis. Mind manifests all that exists in the infinitude of Truth. We know no more of man as the true divine image and likeness, than we know of God."

Bluffs was represented in the local community yesterday by D. J. Mullin.

APPOINTMENTS IN STATE ARE BEING CONSIDERED--LEWIS

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois said today he intended pushing the candidacy of George Peck of Moline for assistant secretary of agriculture in charge of farm organization.

"I'm sure my colleague, Senator Dietrich, will also put forth the name of Peck," he said, "because he is eminently fitted for such a position through long experience in farm work."

Justice Warren Orr of Carthage, Ill., of the state supreme court, is in line for any vacancy that might occur on the U. S. supreme court bench. Senator Lewis said. He added that Senator Dietrich expected to present Federal Judge Louis FitzHenry to the attorney general as FitzHenry can return to Washington. He was called home suddenly from the inaugural.

Lewis said Judge Olson, former mayor of Moline, is being boomed for an assistant attorney general while Bruce Campbell of East St. Louis is still under consideration for solicitor general.

SHEEP OWNERS WILL GET PART OF THEIR CLAIM

Morgan county livestock owners who had animals killed by dogs during the past year will have to be content with a smaller reimbursement from the county than usual. County Treasurer Lee Stice Monday announced that because of the closing of the Ayers National bank only about 18 per cent of the sheep fund is available for distribution.

The amount on hand has been pro-rated and the warrants are now ready for distribution at his office.

Records show that 281 sheep, 37 hogs, 3 horses and 1 calf were killed as the result of attacks by dogs during the year. The total damage including costs was $2,303.50.

During the year ending March 5, 1932, there were 347 sheep killed, in addition to 6 hogs. The total damages during that year amounted to $2,980.

Whitten Conducts Poll of Members on Change; Move up Time of One Game at J.H.S.

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—District managers of the annual Illinois state high school basketball tournament, in a hurried poll, today voted overwhelmingly to go ahead with their plans to hold the tournaments this week.

The poll was taken at the request of several worried officials because of the bank holiday. C. W. Whitten of Chicago, general director of the state championship affair, immediately polled the managers of each district. They replied that the district events could go on this week, some starting Wednesday and going through Saturday night.

"The district managers feel it would be inadvisable to postpone the championships," Whitten said, "inasmuch as all the players are keyed up and anxious to play this week. Furthermore, many of the boys can get to the district sites in automobiles and arrangements have been completed to take care of them. As far as we know, we will go right ahead with our plans to hold the sectional tournaments next week, and the state finals at the University of Illinois the following week end."

President F. R. Roosevelt's decision to declare a national bank holiday, extending through Thursday, failed to shake the decision of the Illinois high school athletic association in its plans to go through with the district tournaments this year, and officials of the Jacksonville district were firm in their belief that the plans as announced sometime ago should be followed out.

Manager J. C. Mutch of the local district had nothing to say about the poll of the district centers conducted yesterday, but did state that the Ashland-New Berlin game, which originally was scheduled for late Thursday afternoon, had been moved up to 2:30 o'clock the same afternoon in order to accommodate the students from these schools and from the local schools. Both Ashland and New Berlin authorities were questioned about making the change before the decision was reached, and both were in favor of the proposed change.

The Jacksonville district meet will open on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, with J. H. S. and I. S. D. meeting in the first game.

All of the eligibility sheets have been received, and the roll of athletes entered in the local district meets derby have been checked. Each school is permitted to enter any number of players on its eligibility sheets, but before playing its first game, must eliminate all but ten players. Each of the eleven schools entered here entered ten players, and some schools entered more players.

The squads, as they stand at present, are as follows:

Bluffs—H. Adams, R. Albrecht, A. Beely, V. Caste, H. Luckford, E. Thompson, L. Albert, A. Eager, O. Castle, J. Ratigan, Coach W. M. Rich. Chapin—William Ragon, Chester Griffin, Clyde Phillips, Loren Bobbitt, Charles Davis, Robert Anderson, Clifford Pounts, Lawrence McDonald, Clyde Bobbitt, Ellsworth River, E. J. ROSENBLUM WILL FIGHT ON FRIDAY

New York, March 6.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, New York's nominee for the light heavyweight championship, battles Adolph Heuser, rugged puncher, in a 15-round title match in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Heuser is young and much the better fighter yet for ring worms, conceding him a chance of beating the Harlem veteran whose title claims are recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission.

This bout tops the National schedule, Detroit and Sacramento offering principal competition. At Detroit Friday night, Eddie Ryan, Polish welterweight, tackles King Tut, Minneapolis veteran, over the ten round route. At Sacramento Thursday, Freddie Miller, N. B. A. featherweight champion, faces Little Dempsey, Filipino, in a ten round non-title match.

WISCONSIN NIPS CHICAGO

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Wisconsin closed its Western Conference basketball season tonight with a 28 to 15 victory over Chicago.

The Badgers led throughout and in the first half held the Maroons to two points. The victory was Wisconsin's fourth against eight defeats. The defeat dropped Chicago back to a tie with Minnesota for last place with one victory in twelve games.

Our Policy

LENTEN MESSAGE GIVEN AT UNION CHURCH SERVICE

Another large crowd greeted the pastors of the participating churches Sunday evening in the Northminster Presbyterian church. This was the seventh in the series of union meetings held Sunday evenings in the churches.

The very large attendance reveals the fact that these meetings are not only increasing in popularity but are filling a deep spiritual need. The well planned programs and the fine evangelistic note that is sounded contribute in no small degree to the deepening of the spiritual life of these churches. The impetus of the group worship of these different denominations is creating a fine spiritual fellowship for service to the community in these days of stress.

Under the direction of Frank Bracewell the choir of Northminster church presented two splendidly rendered anthems, which were well appreciated. Miss Laura Fernandes presided at the organ, and the rendition of the musical numbers greatly augmented the success of the service.

The invocation and offertory service was conducted by Rev. W. C. Meeker, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church. Rev. Freeman H. Thurst of Grace M. E. church had charge of the scripture lesson and the evening prayer. Rev. Harry Lohman, pastor of the church, presided. Rev. Glenn J. Schillerstrom, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church, pronounced the benediction.

The Rev. C. H. Thrall, pastor of Centenary church, delivered the sermon. The minister presented a sincere searching appeal for more earnest preparation of heart for this Lenten season.

Rev. Thrall said in part: "The season of Lent brings special opportunity to Christian people to greatly enrich the quality of their religious experience. Certain hindering factors must be overcome, however, before this end can be secured. Indefinite thinking about the things of the inner life is vague and ineffective. Goals of spiritual growth are always a barrier to spiritual growth. The Lenten season is a good time for us to set up certain very definite goals for our achievement. A richer life of prayer, a more real experience of the presence of God, increased power over temptation to certain definite forms of evil, or the assuming of responsibility for some form of service will offer to many a line of growth which will make the season of Lent of real significance.

Other hindrances may be found in our crowded lives which tend to startle out the finer things of the spirit. No finer approach to a richer and more satisfying experience in religion will be found than comes from seeking to give ourselves so completely to the service of God through service of our fellowmen that we forget selfish interests and lose ourselves in our work in the Kingdom of God."

DISMISS PLEA TO DROP CONSERVATOR OF FOSTER ESTATE

Holding that not sufficient time had elapsed since a conservator was appointed, Judge James Barnes, in county court, Monday morning dismissed the petition of Alfred C. Foster, requesting that the conservator for his estate be dismissed. Attorney Robert E. Harmon represented the conservator. Harry Foster, and Attorney J. W. Templeman, of Springfield, represented Alfred C. Foster.

Following the decision, the plaintiffs asked for an appeal to the Morgan county circuit court. A bond of $50 was required of the plaintiff, the bond to be filed within 30 days.

In his ruling on the case, Judge Barnes stated that not enough time has elapsed since the conservator was appointed last October. He further said that the plaintiff had received a fair trial by jury and that he had been declared incompetent at that time.

Attorney Harmon contested the right of the plaintiff to bring suit at this time, and argued against all of the facts set forth in the petition. Mr. Templeman argued that he had a right to appear in the case.

BAPTIST PASTOR HITS ARGUMENTS OF REPEALISTS

What he considers fallacies of the arguments of wets for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment were explained Sunday night by Rev. T. H. Marsh in a sermon at First Baptist church. He declared that the aim of Congress in passing the repeal amendment was to kill prohibition. He pointed out that the wets must conduct the fight in the states on terms laid down by the wets and under conditions which put the prohibition defenders at a distinct disadvantage. He urged his audience to take the offensive in the battle.

The argument that the repeal of prohibition will create employment in the liquor business the speaker said, is refuted by the fact that fourteen breweries are already working in New York city alone. Beer is being manufactured, and then dealcoholized to make the near-beer now used. These breweries that are now working would be able to supply most of the beer needed for consumption. In its palmy days the liquor traffic never employed more than 274,000 men and today 16 millions are said to be out of employment in the United States. The employment the liquor business would create would make scarcely a dent in the mass of unemployment.

Yet the most Uncle Sam ever collected from liquor taxation was about $126,000,000 a year. The tax on beer in 1919 was raised to $6 a barrel. If that tax could be doubled and corresponding taxes put on wines and malt liquors, the total revenue that would be received is estimated at $216,000,000. This would do little toward balancing a federal budget which is already $1,250,000,000 in the red for the current fiscal year.

At the same time the money spent for booze would be taken from legitimate channels and the taxes derived from these sources would be correspondingly reduced. A third fallacy of the liquor interests lie in their contention that the business would use an enormous amount of grain and raise the price to the farmer. When the liquor traffic had its way it used 1.4% of the corn, .007% of the wheat, .005% of the oats, about 7% of the rye, and 88% of the hops. The last item is the only one that amounts to anything and during the prohibition period, the hops crop has been reduced by only half, which means that there are other uses. Anyway no farmers in this section are interested in hops. Only about 2% of the grain

Illinois farmers raise would be turned to the manufacture of liquor, not enough to give the farmers any relief.

ILLUSION:

In India, the fakirs present a spectacle to tourists. Two lovely performers break bottles and lamp chimneys before the eyes of the audience, and throw the jagged pieces into a box already filled with broken glass. They step barefooted into the box and do an Oriental dance in the glass without injury.

EXPLANATION:

The performers toughen their feet in a strong solution of alum water and thoroughly rub them with pulverized resin before they appear. They throw the freshly broken glass around the edges of the platform. The glass on which they actually do dance is very thick, heavy, and filed or ground so that the sharp edges are rounded off. The girls just pretend to dance on the sharp glass.

CAMELS

*It's FUN TO BE FOOLED
...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW*

One of the tricks of cigarette advertising is to pretend that "Heat Treatment" is an exclusive process, making one cigarette better than any other.

EXPLANATION: All cigarette manufacturers use heat treatment. It is a routine process of manufacture. The first Camel cigarette ever made was manufactured under the heat-treating process. Every one of the billions of Camels produced since has received the necessary heat treatment.

Harsh, raw tobaccos require intensive processing under high temperatures. The more expensive tobaccos, which are naturally mild, call for only a moderate application of heat. Heat treatment never can make cheap, inferior tobacco good.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is the most important statement ever made in a cigarette advertisement. Weigh its words. Consider what it means. Then try Camels.

Camels are fresh . . . in the air-tight, welded Humidor Pack.

Safety Deposit Boxes In Jacksonville Banks To Be Available Today

Persons having safety deposit boxes in the Elliott State Bank and the Farmers State Bank of this city may have access to them today, it was announced by officials of these two institutions Monday night. The two banks will open this morning and remain open during regular banking hours for the sole purpose of permitting persons to have access to their deposit boxes.

There are said to be several hundred persons having safety deposit boxes, and it is presumed that a considerable sum of money will be released through the box holders access to them. Permission to open the local banks for this purpose, followed the order of State Auditor Edward Barrett and the proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt closing all banks in Illinois and the entire United States.

The following statement was issued by local bank officials Monday night:

Permission has been granted to the Elliott State Bank and Farmers State Bank to allow owners of safety deposit boxes to have access to their boxes. These banks will therefore open their doors between the hours of 9 and 5 until further notice, for this purpose only.

"No other business of any nature can be transacted as a heavy penalty is imposed for any deviation from the rulings of the federal and state governments. Only those wishing access to their boxes can be permitted entrance to the banking rooms."

The plan for giving access to box holders to their safety deposit boxes, marks a step in the present situation, which has tied up all of the financial institutions in the United States. In the meantime business men and the public are being inconvenienced.

At a special meeting of the manufacturers of the city last night at the chamber of commerce plans for ways and means of carrying on during the present emergency were discussed. A majority of those present felt that they will be able to meet the emergency and keep all of their enterprises at work. However, there will probably be some temporary shutdowns, but these will be for a short length of time only.

To Change Money

A money-changing station established Monday at the Local Pharmacy on the east side of the square under the auspices of the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce will continue in operation. The station was the result of plans made Sunday afternoon at a meeting of about forty local merchants at the Chamber of Commerce to do something about the emergency created by the closing of banks.

The station has been established next to the pharmacy, to change currency of large denominations into currency of smaller denominations. The station cashes no checks. Various organizations, such as churches, which collected money over the week end, have brought the money to the station to provide small change.

The promoters of the station are asking that anyone having silver or minor coins may bring this cash to the station today and get it changed into bills. The station needs coin and $1 bills more than anything else.

L. F. Jordan, director of his services as a money changer at a small table in the rear of Lone's Pharmacy. The station was open through the day and did considerable business.

The banking holiday with its proclamations by the governor and president, and the majority of business men are believed to favor a watchful waiting policy rather than devise a system of exchange which might be discarded within a few days before it was fully in operation.

The question regarding checks and money orders is being discussed by the manufacturers here Monday, but the majority of persons are sticking to cash. The regulations affecting checks and money orders are not yet well understood by many persons to permit them carrying on much business by this method.

The five per cent withdrawal regulation has caused much discussion in business circles. The majority of persons are proceeding with caution, not wishing to overstep any provision of the moratorium which would later cause misunderstanding.

Officials of the local banks are keeping in close touch with the state auditor's office, clearing houses and other sources of official information. There is a feeling among bank officials here that the situation will be much clarified within the next few days.

DEFEATED ARMY OF CHINA FORMS
DEFENSE LINE

Plan to Make Last Stand 20 Miles South of Koupeikow

Peiping, China, March 6.—(AP)—China's defeated army driven back from Jehol city, has formed a defense line against a possible invasion of China proper and will make its last stand 20 miles south of Koupeikow, Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang's headquarters said today.

The town of Koupeikow guards a gate through the great wall 65 miles northeast of her and 50 miles south of Jehol city.

Fighting continued in the province of Jehol, the Chinese reported. There was an engagement at Changchou Pass, 45 miles southeast of Jehol city and another near the town of Weichang, near Chihfeng.

Chang's headquarters had word this morning that Tang Yu-Lin, governor of Jehol, had been seen near Koupeikow. A detachment of troops was sent there to arrest him a charge of desertion, but he had gone when they arrived.

The conquest of Jehol put the Japanese within 70 miles of Peiping by good motor highway, neutral military observers pointed out tonight.

PASS ELECTION ORDINANCE AT COUNCIL MEET

Discuss City Bond Issue at Monday Session of Officials

The city council at its meeting last night, passed the ordinance calling the annual municipal election for April 18. The judges and clerks who will serve in the primary election next Tuesday will also serve in the regular election. The ordinance was passed with the emergency clause.

A representative of H. C. Spear & Sons Co., Chicago bond firm, explained to the council a method of paying off the bonds which were left encumbered by the loss of the city's public improvement funds in the crash of the Avers National Bank. It is proposed to ask the legislature to validate a city bond issue to cover the $119,000 loss and also the annual public benefit fund collection, the firm to push the bill in the legislature and assure the city a market for the bonds.

City Attorney Bellotti explained to the council that the money reported to be lost would have covered bond and interest payments, but its loss makes it a general obligation of the city. It must be paid sometime, and in order to avoid a court order which might make it payable in a lump sum, the city would spread it over a period of years. The matter was referred to the finance committee and the city attorney for further consideration.

The city clerk reported collections of $124,824 for the month of February. The auditor's report showed collections of $5,070.25 of which $5,024.75 represented water sold. The cemetery board of managers reported a balance in the current fund March first of $103.35. The garage department reported 1,010 gallons of gasoline used by the city during the month, 55 quarts of oil, 26 pounds of grease, 10 quarts of alcohol, and 30 hours labor. The total value of the garage operation in material and services for the month was $188.87.

The matter of donating vacant property owned by the city for use as subsistence gardens for the unemployed during the coming season was brought to the attention of the council. Several available pieces, some of rather large extent, were discussed, and the council was favorable to the proposal. Mayor J. J. Reeve, who is a member of the county emergency relief committee, explained the need for these gardens, and urged that whatever property the city owns that is fit for garden purposes be turned over to the committee.

FUTURE CITIZENS LEARN HOW TO RULE CITY AS COUNCILMEN

This is a photograph of the "city council" which ruled Jacksonville for two hours on Tuesday, Feb. 13. If the reader will look closely he may observe several members of the real city council in the picture are local citizens in the making. They are Boy Scouts, and each one is of Eagle rank.

They are shown seated around the big table in the city council chamber. Many of them have just returned from a tour of inspection of city activities, which they made under the guidance of the regular city officials. The two-hour period of their regime closed with the meeting of the Scout city council as shown in the photograph.

SKILLFUL USE OF CHEAP FEED WILL PAY MORE

Care in Feeding Worthwhile in Reducing Costs of Production

Feed may be cheap, but skillful feeding is still worthwhile in reducing production costs and widening the margin of net return on the 15 to 35 million dollars' worth of milk produced annually by Illinois farmers and dairymen. It is pointed out by J. G. Cash, assistant in dairy extension at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. This is shown, he said, in results obtained by 961 members of the 54 dairy herd improvement associations sponsored by the college to further the more economical production of higher quality milk.

"One dairyman in Christian county increased his net return above feed cost $10.94 a month by changing his herd of 18 cows from an unbalanced to a balanced ration. He was feeding corn and cob meal, but changed to a balanced ration and fed it according to the dairy herd improvement association's feed chart. The result was that he decreased the feed cost of producing a pound of butterfat 3 cents.

"Another member of this same association was overfeeding his cows. The cost of his feed on one month being $27.68. The tester made out a feed chart which the herd owner followed the next month, with the result that the feed cost dropped to $19.31, or a saving of $8.37 in one month's time. There was no slump in the production of the herd.

"In DeKalb county one member was feeding equal parts of corn and cob meal and oats. When he added enough high protein supplement to balance the ration, the production per cow increased an average of five pounds of fat a cow and the feed cost of producing a pound of fat decreased 3 cents. This more economical production made a net increase in returns above feed cost of $1 a cow for the month.

"A Livingston county member discovered that lowering the total feed cost may sometimes decrease returns. One month he was feeding a ration of farm grains balanced with soybeans. The following month he did not use the beans. His total feed cost was lowered $2.23, but each dollar that he spent for feed returned him 44 cents less than it did when the balanced ration was fed. His cows were put back on a balanced ration and will be kept there."

BOMB SUSPECTS

CAPITAL POLICE

Officers Claim Two of the Men Admitted They Made Bombs

Springfield, Ill., March 6.—(AP)—Two miners were in jail and one was released on bond tonight under charges of unlawful manufacture and possession of explosives, while police sought solution of a series of bombings in the city.

John Bendull, Fred Voigek and Carl Schoen said by authorities to be members of the Progressive miners' union, were arrested by police shortly after a bomb exploded tonight near the home of John Bendull, member of the United Mine Workers of America union.

Police announced after questioning the trio that Bendull and Schoen had admitted they manufactured a bomb at Voigek's home December 19 and that they planted it near the home of John Scott, a United Mine worker. They said they sought only to scare Scott. The December 19 bombing did little damage.

Each man, however, denied having anything to do with tonight's bombing, although police said Schoen and Voigek live near Remack's home. Each were charged in warrants with unlawful manufacture and possession of explosives and Voigek was released on $5,000 bonds. Bail for the other two was fixed at $10,000 each, which they were unable to provide.

65 MEN SLEEP AT CITY HALL SUNDAY NIGHT

Sixty-five homeless men were given shelter Sunday night at the Jacksonville city hall, the largest number ever to apply for lodging there on one night.

Several reasons for the sudden increase in transients were forwarded. There is no doubt but that the bank holiday has affected the homeless men indirectly. Their sources of revenue have been largely shut off through the refusal of citizens to help them. "Nickels and dimes that were easy to 'mooch' a week ago are harder to get now."

The bank holiday is believed to have caused a larger movement of homeless men from throughout the state to the rural sections. This theory is reflected by the large number at the city hall.

The men were crowded into the building where they have a roof over their head, which prevents suffering. Monday morning, 31 were sent to a restaurant where they were given cakes and coffee, the bill being paid with the federal relief funds through the Social Service League.

The others went out to forage for themselves.

Each morning the police order the transients to leave the city. If they return that night they are not entitled to another breakfast.

SECURITY OWNERS TOLD TO BEWARE OF ALL "TIPS"

Secretary of State of Illinois Issues Warning to Public

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Rupert F. Bippus, security commissioner, today announced a warning from the office of the secretary of state of Illinois to owners of sound securities and prospective investors to be on guard against persons likely to prey upon security holders during the current period of suspension of trading on the recognized exchanges.

The statement follows:

"The office of the secretary of state of the state of Illinois desires to warn owners of sound securities and prospective investors to exercise unusual caution during the current period of suspension of trading on the recognized exchanges.

"The securities department is of the opinion that in this, as in other periods of depression and suspension of trading, the usual channels of legitimate business, attempts will be made by sharp, questionable and dishonest persons to prey upon security holders.

"Security owners and prospective buyers alike are warned to beware of all 'tips' and inside information received from salesmen or so-called security houses, whether by a personal call, telephone or 'market letter' coming from strangers.

"The public is particularly warned against offers to switch old securities for another or offers to purchase securities for part cash and balance to be paid after banks re-open for business, and in general against all dealing in securities with strangers.

"Nearly all the larger newspapers maintain advisory services for security owners. The public should make use of these and similar proven and trustworthy services, and should make use of these and similar proven and trustworthy services, and should investigate fully, before not after they give or contract to deal."
